Turn geospatial solutions into signed deals across MEASA

Geospatial technology is playing a critical role in how governments and industries plan, build, monitor and manage assets across the Middle East, Africa and South Asia.

GeoWorld brings this market together in one focused platform, connecting solution providers with decision-makers across construction, transportation, environment and the public sector.

As the region's only dedicated geospatial exhibition, GeoWorld combines product showcases, live demonstrations, sector-focused content and high-level discussions to support real adoption, partnerships and commercial outcomes.
