Global scale that moves the industry forward

Big 5 Global is where the world's built environment comes to do business.

For 46 years, it has connected international suppliers with the region's most active buyers, decision-makers and project owners, creating real opportunities to scale, diversify and enter new markets.

Supported by the UAE Ministry of Energy and Infrastructure, the 47th edition of Big 5 Global brings the entire value chain together in one place from construction and digital technology to sustainability, urban development, geospatial and facilities management.

If you want to grow in this region, this is where it starts.
